

I think this ban on cellular telpehones on aircraft should be lifted. It is ridiculous to think that this type of technology could interfere with a plane's communications or navigation in this day and age. Can't we test this? Nowhere else are the use of radio device totally banned but mon a airliner.